TWO REASONS FOR TOWN ARENA

In 1942, there was an increase in juvenile delinquency of 54 percent over 1939. In 1943, there was an increase of 30 percent over 1939. By juvenile is meant children under 16 years. By delinquency is meant indictable offences.

In 1942 and 1943, the increase in delinquency of children 12 years and under was more than 100 percent over 1939. In the past year, nearly every large city in Canada has had a homicide by a juvenile.

The above statistics, applicable to Canada, were given by Dr. Kenneth Rogers who has been attached to the clinic of Toronto juvenile court in the capacity of a psychologist.

Organized sports and recreation is the surest curb on juvenile delinquency. The purchase of the arena is a necessary step towards instituting such a program.

A second point, equally to be emphasized, is the provision of recreational facilities for returning servicemen. The government is spending millions annually on sports and recreation for servicemen and women. A good example is the amount of sport carried on at No. 23.

When the armed forces are demobilized, the sport and recreation habit is going to persist. If Newmarket can't give veterans the things they want, they'll go elsewhere.

A community-owned arena is most important in meeting the needs of veterans.

A FORWARD STEP

For those who find equalization of assessments and kindred subjects on the level of the middle of the sphinx, news that Queen's University, Kingston, is inaugurating an Institute of Local Government will be most welcome.

The Institute of Local Government is primarily a research body charged with collection and documentation of facts and figures concerning the operation of local governments. There is at present little information on the subject and such as there is, is beyond the reach of the ordinary citizen.

Publication of comparative information will do a great deal towards stimulating interest in local government. A clearer understanding of the responsibilities of local government, such as the Institute hopes to encourage, will benefit any community.

The local government is the bed rock of our democratic institutions. Yet, it is consistently given to a back place in our affairs. Unless interest in local government is nourished, we are in danger of losing the meaning of democracy.

NO SUCH ANIMAL

We have a bone to pick with certain politicians and social experts who are continually referring to a creature they call "the average man." We do now and forever declare: There ain't no such animal.

It is true that there are qualities common to all men; an appetite, for example, or love of sleep (confirmed by wives on wintry mornings). But there it stops. Because a man eats and sleeps and has all the other qualities of the species, evenly distributed, doesn't mean that he is "average."

Human nature is a mosaic of infinite variations and colors. It is quite impossible to single out one man and say of him that he is representative of all men. To do so would be to belie that individualism which is our birthright.

What Others Think

CHANGING ALLEGIANCE

(The Free Press Herald, Midland)

Senator Kenneth McKellar of the United States, who is sponsor of a resolution seeking acquisition by the U.S.A. of Bermuda and the British West Indies, has a lot to learn. So have some other Americans.

When it was suggested to Senator McKellar that the residents of those British Islands might object to changing their citizenship the senator was surprised. It had never occurred to him that they might object to becoming part of the United States. He thought "they would be glad."

There are some of his fellow countrymen who cannot understand why Canadians prefer to have their country a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations rather than merging their fortunes with the United States. Isn't the United States the greatest country in all the world, and why shouldn't Canadians want to be Americans if it were not that the British won't let them?

Such ignorance of national feeling is laughable as well as pitiable. There is no more desire on the part of the Canadian people to become part of the American republic than there is in the United States for that country to reverse the verdict of 1776 and again become a part of the British dominions. The senator would probably be very indignant were some Canadian parliamentarian to introduce a resolution asking for the annexation of the New England states to Canada. Geographically they really belong to us. It would be just as sensible to expect the Americans to be glad of the opportunity to be annexed to Canada as to expect the Bermudians and West Indians to rejoice in the chance to change allegiance.

Nearly all human beings prefer to continue the citizenship into which they were born. Particularly is this so of British folk who are privileged to belong to the greatest family of nations in world history.

LIVESTOCK MARKET AGAIN CUTS FARM INCOME

(The Canadian Statesman, Bowmanville)

In telephoned messages to The Statesman during the past week farmers were again rightly up in arms concerning present conditions in the marketing of livestock for slaughter in the packing plants. There was no market, no quotations, and the carry-over at the stockyards was almost unprecedented. In the situation it was stated that the farmers stood to lose both ways. In a glutted market he would have to take a lowered price or in the alternative keep finished stock at home until conditions permitted favorable shipment. The feeling was that it was the same old "runaround" meted out to farmers but upon the cause of which, as usual they were unable to put their finger.

In a press release both government and packers blame the condition on shortage of men to operate the packing plants and to meet this alleged emergency, overworked farmers themselves are called upon to remedy the situation. In advertisements and bulletins they are urged to spend the fall and winter working in the packing plants. The official appeal states: "There is no other source of manpower that can produce the required number of men. Selective service will give information, provide transportation and place applicants in plants. Farmers should thus protect their own interests by taking this employment at good hourly wages."

Both the explanation and solution is as simple as that. There was no reference whatever to the 75,000 Zombies daily eating the farmers' beef in home-front security and comfort. There was no talk about the farmer protecting the "interests" of the packer or the government; he would be protecting only his own interests. With the stockyards taken over at Toronto, with meat rationing in the U.S.A. and the border closed, with retail steaks still around 48 cents per pound, and the Zombies not called to help in the plants, the farmer is all at sea in this senseless, incompetent, unnecessary rigamarole that finds him constantly taking the beating. His protest will be expressed at the ballot box.

PLANNED ECONOMY CALLS FOR DICTATORSHIP

(The Stouffville Tribune)

Sugar is going to be short in 1945. The U.S., British and Canadian governments all agree on that, but they do not agree on how to meet the situation.

The British and the Canadians want to meet it by clamping on severe restrictions now. Washington does not like this idea.

The point is that Britain has not an election coming up, and Canada, with an election coming up, still figures that the public would not resent more restrictions on sugar, regarding them as unavoidable. The public of the U.S., it is supposed at Washington, is likely to resent further restrictions on sugar, with an election coming up.

This is the story as we get it from a very reliable source. It illustrates why so many students of public affairs regard a planned economy as impossible. If we are to have democracies, the planned economy in those democracies must be such as to please the people. Otherwise the government which makes these plans will lose the election. One of the stories of the advocates of planned economy is that when a boom gets going the government would sit on it. No democratic government sat on the boom which started just before the great depression. The plain fact is that a planned economy is possible under a dictatorship, but not in any other form of society.

DREW IS NOW SAFE

(The Free Press Herald, Midland)

If there was any doubt as to the strength of Premier George Drew in the Ontario legislature the Communists have removed it.

When the members of the Labor-Progressive party, formerly the Communists, published a large advertisement in the Toronto papers calling upon the Liberals and the C.C.F. to unite with them in voting Drew out of office they made sure that event would not happen.

Neither C.C.F. nor Liberals are at all likely to follow the leadership of the Communists. If there was any possibility of Mr. Jolliffe and Mr. Nixon getting together for the purpose of upsetting the Drew government the Communists have effectively squelched it.

Col. Drew may now go ahead on a second session of legislation without worrying too much about the opposition.

In Passing

The wartime savings of the small investor in Britain amounted to $12,000,000,000 as of the end of July. The sum represents "small" savings only and is made up of money invested in savings certificates, defence bonds and increased deposits in the Post Office and Trustee Savings banks.

The Financial Post states that it is believed that the first use to be made of the new $400,000,000 exports credits fund provided by federal government at the last session of parliament will be the underwriting of a loan of approximately $25,000,000 to Russia for the purchase of electrical machinery.

Word from local art circles has it that Newmarket's artists are cleaning brushes and readying canvases in preparation for nature at her most colorful. Already the trees in town are donning their autumn finery.

From the Canadian Statesman, Bowmanville, issue of Sept. 28, 1919: H. Ruthven MacDonald sang at the Opera House when the referendum campaign for prohibition was held.

What was the song, Sweet Adeline or Father, Dear Father?

The flies in Newmarket seem to be on the increase. By actual count and not allowing for the ones which were only stunned and later got up and flew away, we slew 47 in one day. Averaging a minute per fly to include the ones we missed with the flyswatter and the others we had to follow around until they settled, it takes nearly an hour to rid ourselves of the pests.

THE COMMON ROUND

By Isabel Inglis Colville

VICTORY

We all realize, I think, that never in the history of the world has there been so hard won a victory. Destruction—want and necessary—loss of life and disruption of living conditions are on a scale unimaginable in past wars and so stunning in their impact in this one that it has left us dazed. In other words, following victory, the victors and vanquished sort of slid into normality and some semblance of security.

After the last war, with the victory not a real victory, Canada went on a spending spree—we ate, drank and were merry with no thought of the morrow—or, if we did think, we pushed troublesome thoughts aside and lived for and in the day. So we reaped what we sowed and a fine harvest it was!

We hear in this war of the number of boys here and elsewhere who were rejected as unfit for service because of malnutrition or some of the aftermaths of malnutrition. And the cause? As far as human can see it was the result of the depression which followed our spending spree. No expectant mother, baby or growing child could have a chance for health on the relief granted those in dire need.

I remember Miss Gibbs of a Toronto newspaper telling of her experiences when she lived for a week with a family on relief. The inadequate food, inadequate heating, poor ventilation because the family must conserve what heat there was, the tragedy of the sons who could find no work, of the father haunting work places and coming home at night exhausted and beaten—all this in a country where elevators and granaries were overflowing with wheat.

And look at our education at that time!

Teachers who had worked for their chance to teach were paid salaries that makes one blush to think of. Out of this they had to pay board, dress decently and give to things—GIVE!—when asked. The churches opened their doors to the homeless men who provided the streets like outcasts, but it seems to me it has taken this war with its horrors to bring out the strength, heroism and Christlikeness of the church. I was reading an article which said that Einstein had never believed in the church but when he saw that the universities, the newspapers and every other source from which, in Germany, opposition might come, had failed and that the church alone stood against Hitler he reconsidered his verdict.

To say everything will be different this time after the war. But will it? More people have more money than ever before in Canada. Are these people going to build up their lives and the life of the nation with it, or is it going to all go in a wild orgy of spending? We are being warned now rather cautiously, it's true, that unlike previous belief, there will be a drop in wages and employment when the war ends and the shifting from wartime to peacetime production begins.

Will our money saved in wartime be used to keep up the high standards of education, the work of the Red Cross, the U.N.R.R.A., the work of the churches at home and abroad or will it all go as it came—quickly? And Canada—great, beautiful Canada—we have the chance as never before to make her name glorious among the nations as a God-fearing, working, GIVING land, a haven for the persecuted, a home for those who deserve a home.

POT POURRI

By GOLDEN GLOW

Here it is not half-way through September as I start next week's column, and already from my verandah I can see quite a few maple trees dressed in their autumn shades of gold and crimson. There is a tree outside "The Cedars" on Victoria Ave. that is nearly all turned. I heard over an early morning broadcast of news that a tropical storm of hurricane proportions is scheduled to strike the east coast of the United States in a very short time—and I wondered if we would get the tail-end as we did last time, when a tree crashed in our neighbor's garden and, believe it or not, did not do any great damage, but it filled the space between our garden fence and their house completely.

I am tired, so I am sitting down for a chat—I find this a grand way to relax. I hope you like it too, I mean this column. Now folks, here's something important—don't ever get mad at the blackbirds "never more." Why? Well, I find they clean out your eavestroughs. In our upper hall, opening out over the front verandah, is a round window. We always call it the "port-hole." That was where the black squirrel got in one morning when I had neglected to put the screen in at once. Yesterday I heard a queer scrambling and shuffling as I was upstairs making the beds. I thought it was just the squirrels and paid no attention till I saw one black shape after another fly past the window. So I went on tip-toe up the hall to see what they were doing. Dry leaves were flying in all directions and a perfect horde of blackbirds were there having a whale of a time!

The iridescent blue ring on their necks shone in the sunshine, and they were working like Trojans. I couldn't see those in the eavestroughs above on the house roof, but dead leaves were coming down in a deluge. I watched operations on the verandah roof and it was amusing. You know I've told you before about the two blackbird families that we have here every year, and what enjoyment I take watching the "old folks" teach the "young folks" first to fly, then to scurry round the garden after insects, then to dip their crusts in the water of their drinking fountain and to take a proper all-over bath in the bird-bath. They went north for their annual summer holiday and are now back, collecting for their journey south.

The robins, too, are back from their northern holiday and you see them in groups of four and five and six searching for insects and topping it off with the red rowan berries on the mountain ash trees. It is a sign of approaching chilly weather when we see groups of birds congregating together.

This is continued—for I did not finish the other day and a lot has happened since, for this is Tuesday now, Sept. 19. The lights of London have come on again. That must have been a wonderful thing for you boys overseas. The robot bombs evidently are not over yet—for this morning's broadcast tells of more destruction and death, but our hopes mount higher and higher every day as good news pours in from overseas. The Churchill-Roosevelt conference at Quebec too, is over and the peace conference is to be held at Quebec as well. We hope it will be very very soon now. The famous Quebec citadel will be known the world over from now on.

We are enjoying perfect September weather, quite foggy in the morning, but sunny and warm through the day. The

TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Newmarket Era and Express: It has been with considerable pleasure that I have read the numerous impressions and experiences of Newmarket boys in this theatre of operations and in Italy. The war, of course, presents a different picture to each of us, depending upon the role we play. Some have borne the strain of continuous fighting while others have had the dangers of battle sunned up in a few dreadful moments. There seems to be, however, one thought in common from those on both fronts and that is the fact that Canadians have upheld and added to the traditions of a great country. You can notice it in their bearing and their talk and not without justification.

In view of the fact that this part of France must be very familiar to the veterans, I shall not enter into any description of it except on one point and that is the remarkable similarity of certain parts of France to Quebec along the lower St. Lawrence River. The same well-tilled farms, small villages clustered about their steeped churches and children playing in the streets. There is a difference, however, in that most of these towns and villages have been scarred by recent fighting and it is not an uncommon sight to see the F.F.I. round up collaborators to be punished in public. Otherwise the routine of these places is much the same as 25 years ago.

I would like to add a word of praise for the splendid staff work The Newmarket Era and Express have done in keeping track of so many of the Newmarket men and women in the services. In the last two years I have moved about a great deal overseas and with splendid regularity the paper and veterans' cigarettes have always reached me. I follow with great interest all the activities of the town I still consider home and wish to thank you for your generous thoughtfulness in giving me a place on your mailing list.

Yours very truly,
G. R. S. Foster, (Lieut.)
(Lieut. Foster's Era and Express is sent to him by the town of Newmarket.)

Editor, The Newmarket Era and Express: I have for some time been receiving your paper, or I should say "our" paper, as you so successfully have made us regard it. I must apologize for not having sent a slight word of appreciation before. I hope you will forgive me and I want you to know that news from home is one of the best reminders of what we are fighting for. We, over here, have had an eye-witness of the fruits of dictatorial powers and it is definitely disastrous.

It is amazing to me that Italy is such a conglomeration of culture and ignorance. They have some of the finest musicians, architects, painters and writers in the world. The Italian is very emotional. I have seen grown up Italian men in tears over very small troubles. Yet the particular characteristic I mention tends to have a beneficiary influence in their music and art. They put all their feelings into their work and their emotions, I must add, are magnificently expressed. They are a people that require strong leadership and in the past have had strong leaders, but not of the right type, which led them to disaster. The average simple-minded peasant, however, is still in ignorance as to the mess their country actually was in and on the whole, the majority welcome the on-coming Allies.

My visit to Rome was a revelation to me. I saw some of the most modern architecture and art and everyone seemed well up with the times. I expected to see an ancient historical city but instead I saw a very modern city with an old ruin wind was in the south when the new moon arrived which always means warmer weather, I understand. This weather may continue all month and nobody will object.

Did you notice by last week's paper that we vote on whether the town takes over the arena or not. That will be Newmarket's next headache!

I attended the school children's fair in the King George school last Friday evening, and it really was marvellous. I still have the bouquet of Golden Gleam nasturtiums that Dianne Lockhart exhibited, and they perfume the whole house with their delicate fragrance. Such a grand display for little folks, and were they excited! I also had a delightful visit, and we rambled around together, looking at the giant beetles, exhibits of butterflies and insects and pressed leaves, and all the other interesting things.

Cheerio for this week.

W.I. WAR COMMITTEE AIDS SALVATION ARMY

The war committee of the Patterlaw Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Fred Hinchey Sept. 3. The treasurer reported that $20.25 had been raised from tickets sold on a quilt; $40 from a binglo at Mrs. Laylott's; $20 from a binglo at Messington Park. The binglos were conducted by Mrs. Edwin West.

The following articles were packed for the Salvation Army: 142 pairs of pillow covers, 22 night gowns, three layettes, seven pairs of socks, two quilts, one pair of pyjamas and a number of other articles for refugees. Twenty-two ditty bags were handed out with two skeins of yarn for a pair of socks to each bag. It was decided that 12 pounds of yarn would be bought. Mrs. Grayson Smith won the quilt.

Quitting hour will be held at the home of Mrs. Edwin West today. The quilts will be sent in the next box to the Salvation Army. Mrs. Charles Wolf, Miss Mary Laviolette, Mr. Cecil Smith, Patterlaw, and Mr. Leo Hibbert, Egypt, attended the meeting of the garden brigade girls and junior farmers.

25 YEARS AGO

From The Era and Express files, Sept. 26, 1919

John O. Moss, Newmarket, erected a soldiers' monument bearing the regimental crest of the 12th York Rangers at Schomberg on Tuesday.

Eggs were 55 cents a dozen on the local market last Saturday. Butter was from 55 cents to 60 cents a pound. Pigeons were 30 cents a pair.

There are ten pages to the paper this week as the prize list for the fall fair is published.

In compliance with a largely signed petition from the working men of Newmarket, Mayor Eves has issued a proclamation setting forth that standard time will be adopted at 12 o'clock on Saturday night. The post office looks better with a new coat of paint.

Wm. Gilles started out for business on Wednesday morning with a fine new auto truck. Its bright paint is very attractive and Mr. Nottingham, the agent, says he is confident it will do its work.

W. J. Brocklebank arrived home from France last week where he has been engaged for over a year of past days scattered throughout. I was to a program at the Canada club in Rome where all the entertainers were Italian and everything in their power was done to give us the best.

I haven't met many Newmarket boys. But I have heard indirectly who they are and where they are. Once again I say thanks very much for your kindness in keeping us posted on the local news in which we are always interested.

Yours sincerely,
W. S. Morton.
(The Era and Express is sent to Spr. Morton by the town of Newmarket. Last week Spr. Morton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Morton, received word that their son had been wounded in Italy.)

DOWN THE CENTRE

Back in the twenties the ace goal-tender for the Newmarket Redmen was a fair-haired kid, Colborne Ames, who, because his father was a physician, was called "Doc" by the fans. He came on the scene when Newmarket teams were just beginning to attract province-wide attention and battled it out with Reg. Corbett, now taking part in the Italian campaign, for the regular position. Ames eventually won out and while not a spectacular performer was always reliable and his temperament suited the dressing room harmony.

After a stretch at Toronto University he headed north to Kirkland Lake for a job with one of the big mining firms, hockey honors not being any detriment to a good job in those days. Politics was a subject that was prominent in the Ames household, the late Dr. C. E. Ames espousing the Tories, temperance and other candidates during his North York career so that "Doc" had a natural bend for public life. He became a member of the Kirkland Lake council, prominent in labor organizations, and took a leading role in the strike days up north. He was one of the few to withstand concerned action by the rival forces and retain his council seat. Now he has been drafted for a more important role and is the C.C.F. candidate for the House of Commons for Temiskaming riding. The district has always been good fighting grounds for all parties, the C.C.F. holding the provincial seat and the Liberals the federal one, so Ames has a fight on his hands and is doing a great campaigning job from what we hear from those on the scene.

A political career has beckoned more than one athletic great. Hugh Plaxton, once centre for the mighty Varsity Grads hockey team, Lionel Comacher, the big train of Canadian sports and lately dubbed by some American sports writers the greatest all-around athlete to appear on the North American continent, Syl Apps, Maple Leaf hockey star and a corporal in the Canadian army, and many other lesser sports figures have sought laurels on the political rostrum with varied success.

Oedl Merritt, V.C., was one of British Columbia's best known athletes and has lately been nominated as the Progressive-Conservative candidate for Vancouver-Burrard and will likely oppose the Hon. Ian McKenzie, the sitting member. We may well expect many more sports figures seeking to lend their country a hand in the hectic days that will follow the war as a natural corollary to their active careers. Floyd Yake, according to word from overseas, is on his feet again and convalescing from wounds suffered in the invasion of France. Jack Chipman, quarterback and all-round athlete at St. Andrew's College, along with another Andrean great of the same era, Don Sabiston, are both commissioned officers in the navy and have seen action in recent weeks.

Boris Tipoff, giant young defence star of Markham juniors last winter who was unanimous choice for all-star honors by the coaches, has made his debut on the gridiron as a member of the Balmy Beach club in the senior O.R.F.U. He is a backfielder of more than ordinary ability and Alex. Ponton is confident he has a great future.

Sammy Hayward, peppy and popular young receiver of Newmarket camp footballers, is seeking new honors in the ring. "Ablution Room Sam" has had several bouts to date and appears headed for a successful bash and duck career. Sam, who always has a ready reply, stopped Len Wadsworth the other day when he told him of a guy who could really punch. "He knocked his opponent so high in one bout that when he came down his trunks were out of style," said Hayward, never cracking a smile. He comes from Fort William and is about the most improved player on Lieut. Bert Kennedy's softball nine.

Will it end? That's the $84 question in the armored corps softball league. Five games have been started. One was a tie, two were won by No. 2 and two have been called because of darkness. Arguments, protests, late arrivals and rain have marked the series. No. 2 needs one more win but Newmarket has protested one of the games, alleging Thorne, the opposing pitcher, used a loaded bat. The bat was loaded but the trouble is to prove it was used in this game. The game in which the bat was discovered was declared no contest and with another bat, about which there is no question, the Windsor boys has powdered the ball hard.

No. 2 won 12-1 in Newmarket last week in a game in which they were superior all the way, while at Borden last week they were leading 10-6 when the game was called through darkness. On the way to Borden the truck from No. 23 caught fire and on the previous trip the vehicle travelled at a snail's pace. These things can't be helped and happen in the best laid plans. We mention it only to indicate to Newmarket fans the difficulties the army teams travel under and why it is difficult to Maureen O'Hara, Joel McCrea and Linda Darnell form the romantic triangle in Buffalo Bill, technicolor hit which plays Monday and Tuesday at the Strand theatre. The colorful and exciting saga of the life of America's greatest frontiersman, hero features Thomas Mitchell, Edgar Buchanan and Anthony Quinn in its brilliant cast. Special matinee Monday at 4.30 for school children.

Last week, for instance, there was considerable criticism in the baseball series because the D. and M. team only had six men on hand at starting time and had to use Newmarket players to fill the engagement. The players they had didn't look very good either. Four of these were spares, brought along to fill in because of furloughs, but the rest of the team regulars were in another vehicle and didn't arrive because it turned over near Alliston. Three went to hospital including Tommy Walsh, Canadian army novice bantamweight champion, who is a protégé of manager Burley Grimes of the Toronto Leafs. So don't be too critical of army teams when you see them in action. The boys, especially in advanced armored centres, take training hardly calculated to allow you to do your best on the diamond the same day and the events in army vehicles either to Borden or Newmarket, made against time, are in the same category.

Congratulations go to Newmarket camp on their winning baseball effort in the C.A.C. Congress series, to Aurora bantams for their sparkling win in the North York bantam series and to No. 3 C.A.C.T.R. for winning the C.A.C. soccer crown. Both of the baseball teams were favorites for the series, the Aurora boys hurling some great pitching for Atkinson of the Hill in the three game series. No. 3 surprised everybody by defeating Newmarket 2-1 at the camp last week on a slippery field, Newmarket being long odds favorites to win. If they could have hit their real form early in the year, C.S.M. Syd Bowman and his boys would be in a play-off spot right now.

Capt. Tom George, energetic and versatile sports officer at No. 23, is now on a camouflage course at Vancouver so when he returns perhaps he will be able to deck out the Redmen and teach them tactics with which they will be able to really surprise their opponents.

Joe Scherel, the big Milton farm boy and chatter of the Boston Bruins who tried his hand at lacrosse for the first time this season and developed sufficiently well to earn a place on the Brampton senior team, has been awarded the trophy for the most promising rookie in the Peel County lacrosse league.

On the subject of Canada's national game, it is well to recall that New Westminster, whom we saw in action a few months ago, will arrive in the east next week to tackle the eastern lacrosse winners, presumably St. Catharines. We don't advise wagering any dough on the Ontario teams as the B.C. league was superior in calibre.

Harry Lumley of Owen Sound, well known for his goal-tending ability for Owen Sound against Aurora Ordnance and later for Barrie Colts and Indianapolis, is playing juvenile lacrosse this year for the Sound who are likely kid title winners. Seems funny to think of some boy lacrosse star good enough to play goal in professional hockey. The gutted stick, being in our mind, we take time out to recall that twenty-five years ago this month, Aurora interned-lates bowed out to Bracebridge in an Ontario lacrosse playdown, the northern team going on to win the provincial crown over Orangeville Dufferins in a hectic series played, we think, at Haulan's Point, Toronto.

Aurora was just seeing the return from overseas of a good many of the finest lads of the district that year and in addition had some dandy young junior players on hand. It is a long time ago but we think the facts were Aurora got a bye, played exhibition games and then decisively trounced Meaford in the first round. The late Arthur Bonsteel and Herb Lennox bought them a new set of red sweaters.

Fred Browning was certain his boys could take Bracebridge. The first game was played in Aurora and the black and white clad visitors led by Jack McDonald, later to become president of the O.A.L.A., Cudmore and the Bardele brothers, one now a physician and the other former principal of Newmarket high school, took Aurora 6-5 in the town park. The loss was a severe setback and the following week a combination of player shortage and holiday spirits saw Bracebridge take the round easily. We are not too sure of all the players on the Aurora teams and after you read this we would appreciate any corrections. Pete Lusloc was in goal with Oliver Whitmore, Al Brodie, Bob McLeod and Jack "Skip" Brown on the defence. John Billing, Kid Harman, Pete Machell, Jack Eagan, Bill Clapper, Frank Weist and Cliff Harman were on the home, and, we also believe, Dooley Butler, "Cooley" Collings, Rosey Church and Mike McKinstry of Barford, as well as Ganton of Newmarket were playing.

This team was the start of several seasons of brilliant lacrosse in the Aurora park which, if they didn't result in championships, provided great entertainment. Crowds of close to 1,000 used to jam the park, especially on Saturday afternoon. The game has never been successfully replaced in our eyes as a crowd pleaser by any other sport.

Bucko McDonald, who will soon report to the Rangers at Winnipeg for hockey training, has been keeping in shape by playing softball all summer at Orillia and last week weighed 222 pounds as he stopped on the scales. He looks for a good season but will have to drop some of that avoidupols.

Richmond Hill bantam hockey players, who won the King Clancy honor in the T.H.L. are being presented with handsome plaques to mark their win. Wonder what the kids at Newmarket and Aurora will get for their triumphs? There's nothing in the kitty we don't suppose but the boys have earned some small memento for their triumphs and don't think they wouldn't be cherished. We don't suggest anything elaborate, just something to the kids will know the oldsters appreciate their efforts.

By way of a citizenship gesture, the various Lions clubs could do worse than have a kids' night and give the boys an idea of how an worthy organization are handled. The experience might do some good to those who have no children of their own and who have pretty well forgotten what it is to be a kid as well as those who have raised large families. We can't do any-

KATHLEEN ANDREWS IS SEPTEMBER BRIDE

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the United church parsonage, Newmarket, on Saturday, Sept. 9, when Kathleen Sarah, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Andrews, Newmarket, became the bride of Howard Marvin, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Breen, Sharon. Rev. Henry Cotton officiated.

The bride, attired in a queen's blue ensemble with navy accessories, was attended by her sister, Mrs. Ivo Ramm, who wore a mauve ensemble with black accessories.

Harold Breen, brother of the groom, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Sending Parcel Overseas

Following is a list of do's and don'ts from the post office department for sending parcels overseas:

Each parcel should be carefully packed in corrugated shock proof containers, the contents compact so that they will not shake loose and break out of the package. Then the parcels should be wrapped in several layers of wrapping paper, and securely tied with strong twine.

On no account should shoe boxes be used as containers—they easily crush and break.

Avoid using fancy colored Christmas paper as an outside wrapper, or colored ribbon to tie.

For added security parcels may be sewn in strong cotton or similar fabric.

Any substance likely to leak, spread and damage the mails, if sent at all, must be enclosed in sealed metal containers, surrounded with absorbent material in corrugated cardboard and securely wrapped and tied.

Fresh fruits, grapes, pears, etc., or other items likely to spoil are not acceptable.

Do not mail glass jars or bottles.

The mailing of matches, safety matches, lighter fluid or any other inflammable substance is prohibited by law.

A completed customs declaration should be attached to each parcel.

All mail should be fully and clearly addressed in ink, without misleading abbreviations. Place a return address on the cover of each parcel and also a slip among the contents giving the name and address of the sender and the complete armed forces address that appears on the parcel. Prepay all mail correctly. Do not write to a member of the armed forces overseas that gifts are being sent, until actually mailed.

Copper is needed for telephone cable.

But it is also required for shells, planes, communications equipment and other war supplies. This is true of many another telephone material, too.

There's just no alternative. Until victory, war needs come first. With reserves of telephone equipment at low ebb and almost im-

To all those applicants who are still waiting for telephone service, we can only say that we fully appreciate their problem. On our part we are making maximum use of existing equipment to serve as many people as possible.

Things you can't add on your fingers

IT'S hard, almost impossible, to figure out on your fingers the many benefits of life insurance.

The street car you ride on—the electricity that perks your coffee—the home you live in—the school your children attend—the hospital where your baby was born—these are available to you partly because of life insurance investments in Canada's mills, factories, power plants and public works. The money you put into insurance is always circulating to make more jobs for more people. It's hard to add up all its benefits because they are felt in every corner of the land.

Some say that life insurance money would be better employed as "venture" capital rather than invested in long term bonds and mortgages. Well, life insurance companies must regard the investments which they make from year to year as trust funds, and policyholders would not want it otherwise. Deliberate safeguards have been set up to protect these investments and government laws very properly prohibit the use of life insurance funds for speculative purposes.

The truth is that life insurance assets are safely invested in such a wide variety of local and national undertakings that the average man has no conception of how much the development of the country depends on life insurance funds.

It is good citizenship to own LIFE INSURANCE

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tomlinson was the scene of a happy event on Friday evening, when many friends and neighbors gathered in honor of the approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary. The popular bride-to-be was showered with lovely gifts along with the best wishes of all who were present.

BETHEL HOLSTEIN TRIPLETS ATTRACT VISITORS

(Sept. 21)

The Holstein triplets on the Angus Cameron and Son farm have attracted many visitors. They are a thriving family of calves.

Bethel anniversary is next Sunday. Rev. V. Lorne, Stewart, will be the guest speaker. The Mount Albert choir will provide the music.

The lovely fall weather has brought the gladioli out in an abundance of bloom and the maples are showing their beautiful colors.

Angus Cameron is in Toronto on jury duty. Mrs. Cameron accompanied Mr. Cameron and is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Saylor.

thing about it personally but we hope this doesn't fall on deaf ears. So far, we haven't heard anything against the purchase of Newmarket rink but we would judge from Mayor Lowell Dale's appeal there is some side street whispering and some false-fair thinking along those lines. The same goes for post war planning and proposed memorials elsewhere.

Peterborough is an up-to-date example of a real community effort and what can be planned. For one year the Lock City has been without a rink and the people are determined to do something about it. The result has been an orderly, well planned move for a community sports centre. Here's what they are planning to do. The name selected, appropriately enough, is "Memorial Health Centre." An artificial arena, with curling adjunct, swimming pool, softball and baseball diamond, soccer field and lacrosse box, as well as playground facilities will be all erected on a good site. The cost is estimated at $275,000 and the finances have been arranged as follows: city to donate $75,000, manufacturing firms to contribute $100,000 and the other $100,000 to be raised by public subscription. The drive for funds has already started and is meeting with good success. The city and manufacturers' ante is ready as soon as the committee in charge are ready to go ahead.

The main point is that it isn't in the dream stage but well on its way to success. The war is not likely to last at a tempo serious enough to take all national energy beyond another year and by that time Peterborough will be ready to go ahead if not already started. How much better to plan now than to wait until the war drums are silent. We must all surely realize the apathy that existed in the early days of the war and how hard it was to whip up enthusiasm. The point is now is the time to start, now is the time to plan, now is the time to raise funds.

Newmarket has a reasonable community undertaking in hand which can pay for itself. The arena may well be expanded, once acquired, into a real big community sports and health centre. No one, either by way of civic pride or personal responsibility for the future health and happiness of our way of living, can afford to do other than support those who are trying to do something for the town. Just as during war years dollars and cents were not the main issue but only a means to an end, so must the proposition be regarded.

Small town Ontario in the past has been unattractive enough for young people and those coming back from the war are expecting a change. The old home town will look pretty good but if it's a one horse town the attractiveness will soon wear off. Winston Churchill has already advocated the return to the village community system and taking a place abreast with the times is a solution.

We don't think there is much more to be said that hasn't been said before. The point is whatever we intend to do let's get it underway. We have no doubt about the outcome of the by-law vote in Newmarket but there shouldn't even be a vote against it. It also we will have failed to keep abreast with the times and the lessons we should have gained from five years of war.

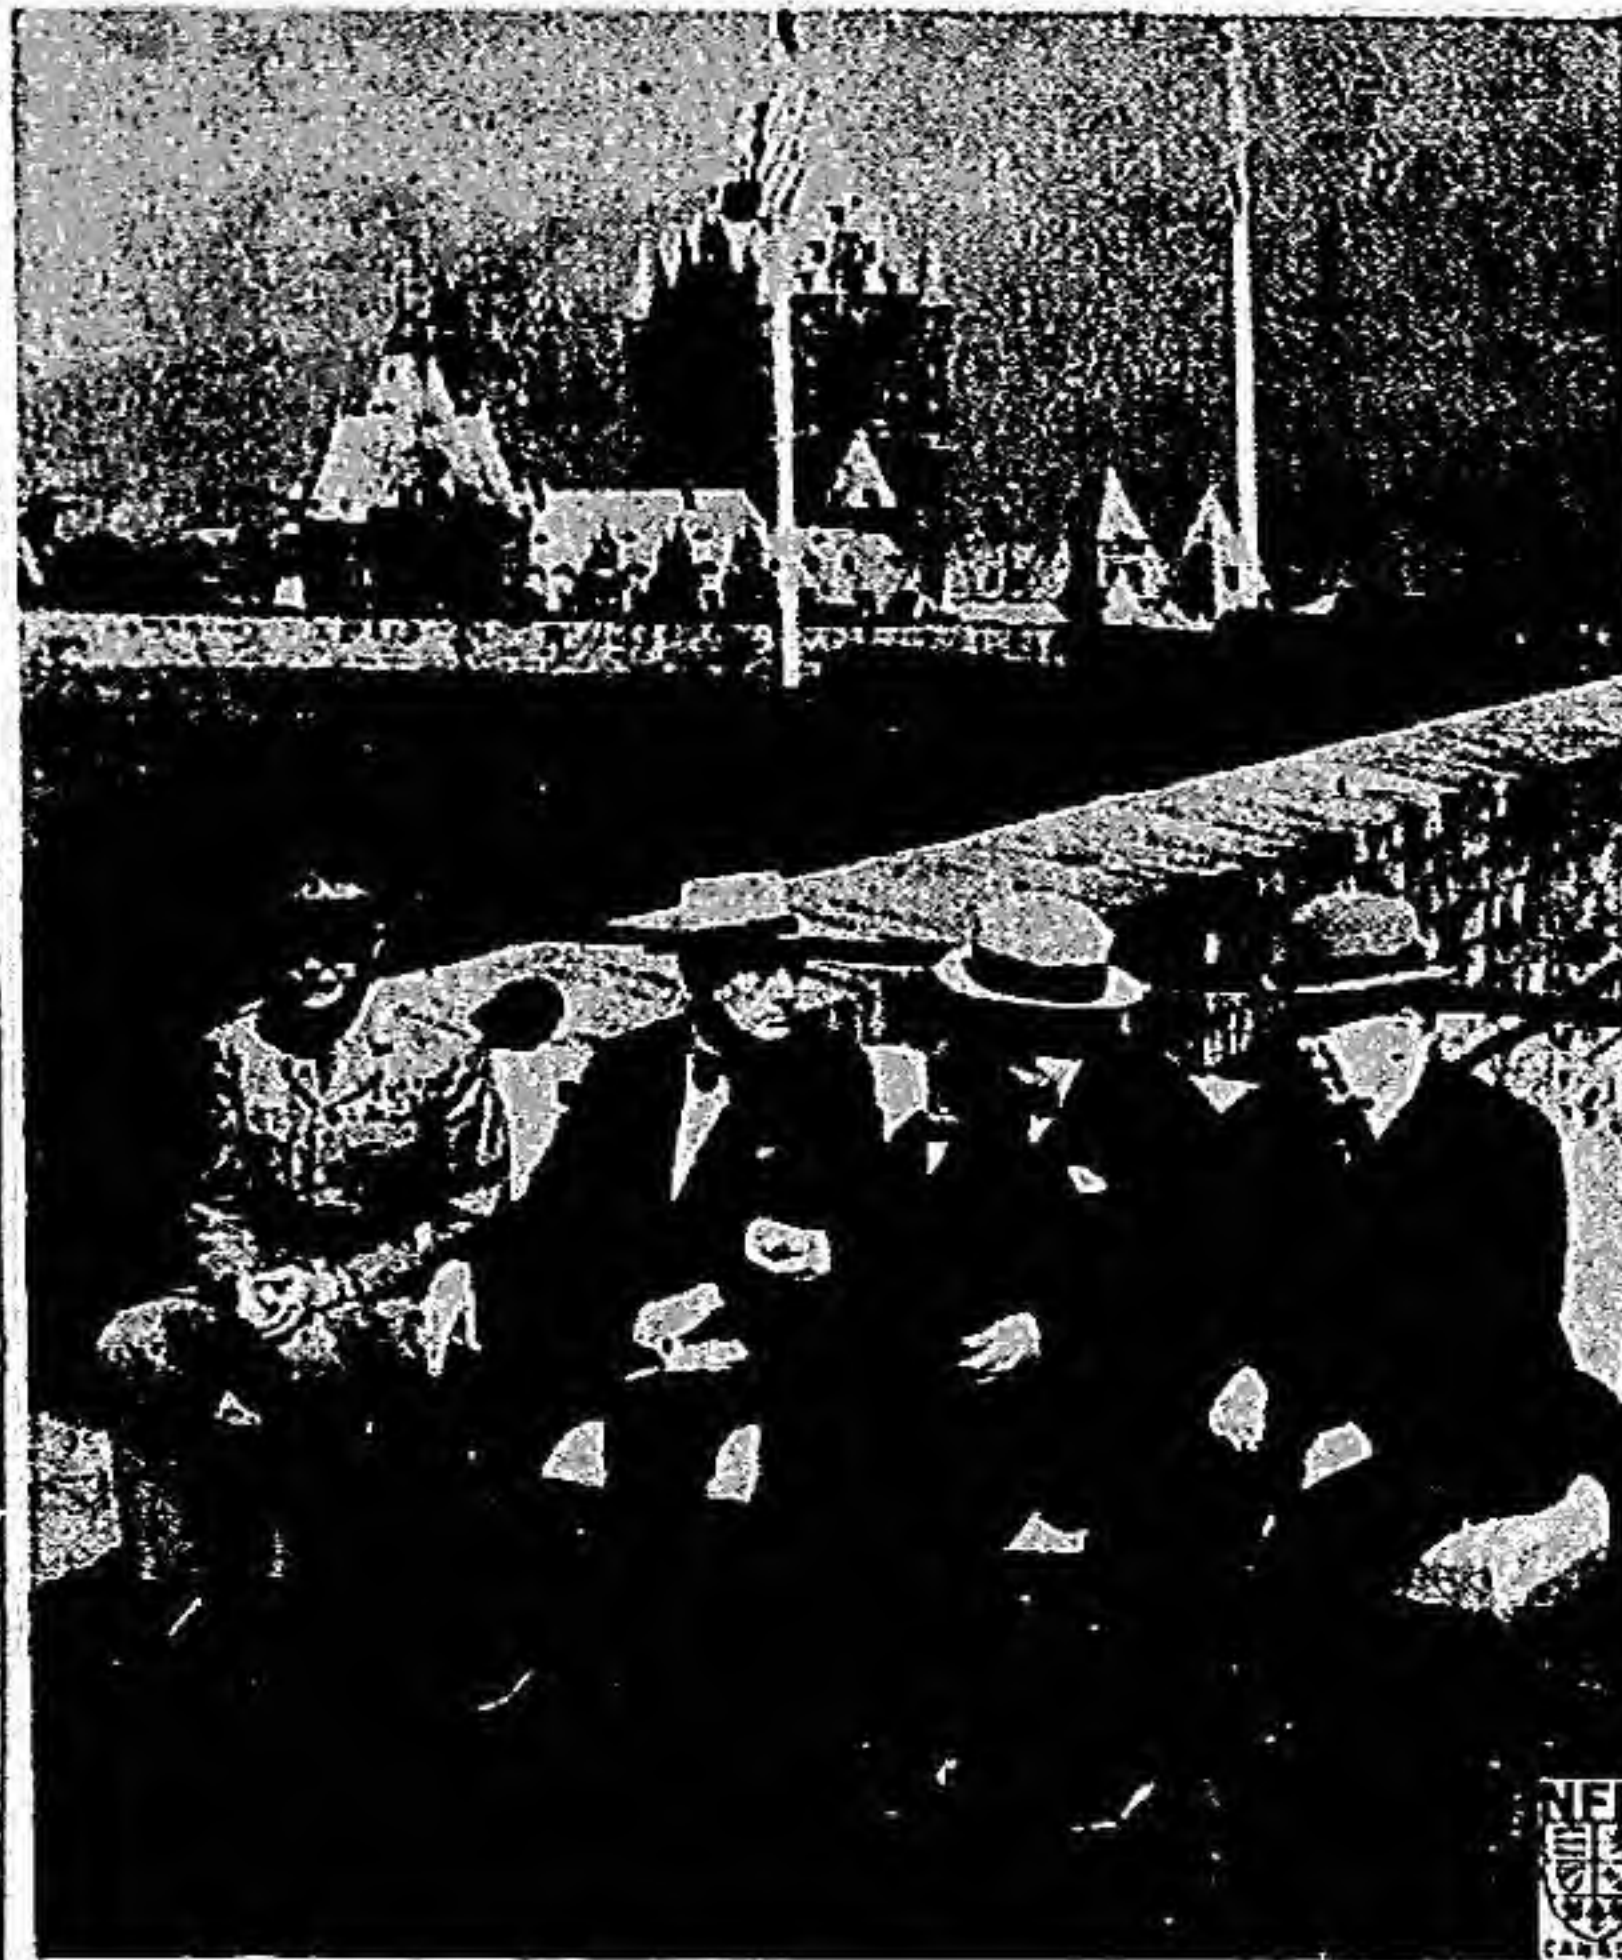

Pat Abbott, who one night last winter attracted nation wide attention by keeping goal for Boston Bruins against Toronto, is now a preacher in Detroit and will work out with the Red Wings this winter. Abbott was a divinity student in Toronto and a practice goalie with the Leafs. He is not likely to beat out Connie Dion of the Wings but will again have a lot of fun.

Jimmy Cummings, with Oakwood Indians hard pressed for players, came out of retirement to play against Tigers last week and, according to the radio reports, the former Aurora hockeyist was nearly as good as Joe Krol and Miodonovich, the Tiger stars.

We were privileged to have a ringside seat at Bob Hope's recent Canadian broadcast and we can say Hope is exactly as you expect to find him. Talks constantly, chews gum incessantly, is a riot of fun in perpetual motion, except the gags come a bit too fast for the average person, has no formality, is no respecter of persons for his humor and is a master of pantomime. He doesn't spare himself to give the boys and girls in the services a four star performance and he has of course travelled thousands of miles to brighten the servicemen's corner. He wore a checkered coat, blue shirt, grey trousers and tan shoes. His hair is slightly greying. Francis Langford has hair that is on the up do in a sort of dark golden shade, a perpetual smile and a voice that really melts the icest heart. Would figure her to be around 35 years. She wore a black, floor-length gown with plenty of jewelry and orchids. (How am I doing girls?) Clothes seemed moulded to the form if you know what I mean.

Jerry Colonna looks and acts exactly like his pictures. That mustache is a darn, those eyes really speak and the voice purrs. He wore a brown suit, tan shoes and was a regular fashion plate. Quentin Reynolds, who appeared on the broadcast, speaks in a voice reminiscent of Franklin D. Roosevelt and is a regular giant. Looks even bigger than Earl McCready and would make a dandy wrestler or footballer. He has short, curly hair, is quite tanned and wore a tan, whipcord suit that was a honey. Skinny Ennis, the band leader, has rightly earned his sobriquet as he is the veritable thin man. He worked in a short sleeved, blue, open neck shirt with grey flannel trousers. He has only a couple of his own band with him, the rest being a pick-up gang. Best gag we thought was the one about the Quebec conference: F. D. R. and Winston were outfumbling each other for the dinner check. Winston couldn't see it through his cigar smoke and F.D.R. just murmured "remember lend-lease."

AT LAST QUEBEC CONFERENCE

church township. Constable Aubrey Fleury testified that he also found 17 empty pint bottles in the defendant's car when he searched it at 10.45 p.m., July 29. In the case of John De Soto, Toronto, also found guilty of illegal possession of liquor, County Constable William Hill testified that he had been driving his car from Sutton to Jackson's Point when he noticed the defendant standing at the side of the road with a bottle of liquor in his hand.

Constable Alex. McCallum told his worship that the defendant's car had been in a head on collision with another car two miles south of Keswick. Found guilty to a charge of beating his wife, a King township man was sentenced to two months in jail. Defence counsel, Louis Raxen, advised his worship that the latter's wife, who laid the charge, wished to have it withdrawn. Magistrate Cameron, however, would not consent to the withdrawal.

"I hesitate to take the responsibility that a more serious incident will arise out of this if it is let go," stated the crown.

Constable Aubrey Fleury told his worship that on the evening of Sept. 9 he went to the accused's home where he found accused's wife severely beaten about the head and face.

"I went back to the car," stated the officer. "Accused kept saying that he was going to kill his son. He had been drinking, his language was profane and he wanted to fight. He said that he would kill him if he got out of the car."

The 15-year-old daughter of the defendant told his worship how her father struck her mother with a stick and kicked her about the body. She said that she, her brother, her sister and her mother had to hide in the bush from her father.

In his defence accused admitted that he had beaten his wife when he had drunk "quite a few beers." He pleaded that he intended to live in Toronto apart from his

His worship, on the recommendation of the crown, sentenced them to seven days in jail dating back from the time of their arrest a week ago.

"It is only at the suggestion of the crown that you are getting such a light sentence," Magistrate K. A. Cameron told the youths.

Four defendants charged with illegal possession of liquor were found guilty and fined $10 and costs. Charles Trudeau, Russellhill Road, Toronto, pleaded guilty to having four pints of ale in his car at Mossington Park, Lake Simcoe, on Aug. 27.

Constable George Foster told his worship that he was patrolling the park at about 12.25 a.m. when he noticed the trunk of accused's car open. Investigating he found a watering can full of ice, a case of beer and four pint bottles.

William Rutherford, Toronto, also pleaded guilty to illegal possession of liquor. Constable Foster told his worship how on the evening of Sept. 8, while driving on Heathcote Road near Mossington Park, the defendant and another man, who were standing on the road with bottles of beer in their hands, signalled him for a ride. The officer stated that Mr. Rutherford admitted ownership of the beer. James Hart, Toronto, was found guilty of having seven pints of beer in his car in Whit-family and leave the farm to his wife. He admitted being convicted on a similar charge last spring.

"The root of this is an insane jealousy on the part of the husband," explained the crown. "There exists in the mind of the defendant a belief that his wife is unfaithful. The matter was looked into last spring and apparently there is no basis for this belief."

"This type of thing is entirely too common," commented Magistrate Cameron. "Men must realize that it cannot be done. In this case it is fortunate that accused is not facing a more serious crime. I had a case come before me not long ago, similar to this, where the man was charged with manslaughter."

"There can be no doubt as to the guilt of accused," commented Magistrate Cameron when imposing sentence of 30 days in jail on a second King township man who had pleaded not guilty to a charge of assaulting a female. "It is about as brutal an assault as I've listened to in some time. There is no excuse for this sort of thing. As I said before this thing occurs too often. If a man has to learn in the hard way to keep his hands off a woman then that is how he will have to learn. There is no reason for the accused hitting a female."

A witness for the crown testified that defendant came to her mother's home in King at 2.15 a.m. on Aug. 3 and beat her, her mother, another woman and her sister with the handle of a shovel. In answer to inquiries of the crown she stated that the defendant was sober at the time.

Dr. C. Rose of Aurora told his worship that he had attended the witness at about 4 a.m. on Aug. 3 and found that she had two cuts on her head, one of which needed four stitches and the other two stitches to close. She has a black eye, bruises on her back and arms and was in a highly nervous state.

The sister of the witness said that she was the common law wife of the defendant and that on the day of the assault she had taken the children with her to her mother's home. She said that she had left defendant's home because he had ordered her to leave.

Defendant told his worship that on the day of the alleged assault his common law wife had gone to her mother's home with the children and had failed to return to get his supper. He said that the family did not agree with them living together and interfered. He admitted pushing the witness aside but denied striking her. He stated that the witness and his common law wife had hit him with the shovel handle. Defendant said he had never been convicted in court before.

The sugar situation is NOT sweet

FOUR-FIFTHS OF THE SUGAR CANADA CONSUMES HAS TO BE IMPORTED

This map shows where Canada, Great Britain and the United States got their sugar in the good old days of peace. Our three countries take practically all the exportable sugar from these major sugar-exporting areas. But supplies have either been cut off by enemy occupation of the country—as in the case of Java and the Philippines, or their production radically reduced by shortage of workers, as in the case of Hawaii, Porto Rico, Australia, Trinidad, Fiji.

ROLLING ON SUGAR

The war has brought some unusual demands on the United Nations' sugar pool. V quantities have been taken for making industrial alcohol used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber (tires, etc.) as well as T.N.T. and smokeless powder. For instance, the explosive to fill five 16-inch shells requires as much sugar as

THE SUPPLY IS SHARED

All sugar supplies are pooled and under the control of the Combined Food Board of the United Nations, which allows supplies to Canada, United States and Great Britain on a uniform basis.

DO WE NEED MORE SUGAR?

A century ago the whole world didn't consume as much sugar as Canada does today. Our sweet tooth has been acquired in quite recent times. Sugar rates high for its energy value, but starchy food is a good substitute.

POTATO GROWERS HOLD FIELD DAY

Nearly 50 potato growers met in the potato field of John Petrie, Sharon, last Wednesday for a field meeting and tour to visit a number of growers in the 500-bushel club under the auspices of the York County Crop Improvement Association.

Dr. G. H. Berkeley of the Plant Pathology Laboratory at St. Catharines was the first speaker on the program and outlined the tests of new types of dusts his department of the dominion government had carried out on Mr. Petrie's field during the summer and the sprays tried out on Everton Goode's field, also for the control of blight and such insects as the Flea Beetle and Leaf Hopper.

The growers gathered in Mr. Petrie's implement shed and carried on a valuable conference under the chairmanship of agricultural representative, W. M. Cockburn, Newmarket. J. W. Scannell, district inspector of the dominion certification service, discussed many of the problems of the growers including the various diseases, certification grades and tuber-unit planting.

Youth Given 30 Days On Tire Theft Charge

Pleading guilty to the charge of theft of a tire, wheel and tube from Arthur Alexander, Queensville, a Toronto youth was sentenced to 30 days by Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe in magistrate's court, Newmarket, Friday.

The accused said that he had been on his way to Jackson's Point when the tire of his car blew out. He said he didn't have a spare tire and knew if he asked for one he wouldn't get it and, seeing the trailer parked at the side of Mr. Alexander's garage, he took the wheel, tire and all and put it on his own car. He admitted having been previously convicted on a charge of theft and being given a suspended sentence.

Constable Joseph Jardine, Queensville, investigated the theft and traced the youth to his Toronto address.

Found guilty on a charge of assaulting Joseph English, Queensville, David Miller, Queensville, was fined six dollars and costs or six days.

Mr. English told his worship that he had been in a grocery store when the defendant approached him, swore and grabbed him by the throat.

Mr. Shaw, Queensville, testified that he saw Mr. Miller shaking his fists at Mr. English.

The defendant denied that he had ever hit Mr. English or waved his fists at him.

"I accept the evidence of Mr. Shaw that you were waving your fists," Magistrate Woodliffe told the defendant. "In future, you keep your hands to yourself."

Pleading guilty to a charge of careless driving, Harry Hill, Huron St., Newmarket, was fined $10 and costs of one dollar.

Constable James A. Leeder told his worship that he was patrolling Main St. at 12:30 a.m. on Sept. 17 when he noticed the defendant driving without lights on his car and with three youths hanging on the running board.

Magistrate Woodliffe warned the defendant that there is no person on the side of his car when he is driving.

Pleading guilty to a charge of illegal possession of liquor, Harry George Stinch, Trenton, was fined $10 and costs or one month in jail.

Opinions

on Arena Purchase

Mrs. W. H. Bell: "Lacking any community centre as we do now, it seems to me that the acquiring of a community rink, properly managed, might bring about the birth of a healthy community spirit—a thing that is needed in every town."

R. C. Morrison: "To my knowledge, our arena is the only building in our midst that is built exclusively for recreation. An organized recreation centre such as the Newmarket arena is of tremendous value in the conducting of our youth in organized sport and healthful physical development. Our rink is but one stepping stone toward a well-balanced program of youth-training that we must plan for now, and put into effect after the war is won. To vote against this enterprise would be depriving our youth, our war veterans and our children of the honest birthright that our great dominion has to offer—health and training of mind and body. "We will pledge to support this coming plebiscite 100 percent and sincerely hope that these few words can be of some influence to the citizens of Newmarket."

A. N. Belugin: "It was one frosty winter night 16 years ago (the year I came to Canada) that a newly acquired friend of mine offered to show me Canada's premier winter sport. He took me to Newmarket arena to see my first junior O.H.A. game. And what a game it was. It made me a hockey addict over night."

"In between breath-taking periods, I looked over the arena and said to myself: No wonder these Canadians are proud of their standard of living; look at this magnificent building, and all of it in a town of only 3,400 population."

"Years have gone by. I have seen great carnivals in Newmarket arena; I have listened to both immediate prime ministers feeling quite proud of our town, that it could accommodate such big crowds on nationally important occasions. I have had a lot of fun at the industrial hockey games with the tannery band at one end of the building and the Specialty noisemakers at the other. And, above all, I have watched hundreds and hundreds of Newmarket kids, ranging from seven years of age and all the way up to 70, shuffling along, enjoying one of the best winter exercises—skating. "I understand this arena would cost Newmarket $17,000 or, over a period of eight years, less than one mill, half of which would be probably paid from the revenue derived from operation, leaving less than a half mill or something like one dollar and ten cents per average taxpayer."

"Surely Newmarket will not turn down this arena of ours and lose its identity as a Canadian town, or will it?"

Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards: "I would not like to see Newmarket miss the opportunity of having a real recreation centre. Recreation is now recognized as a very definite part of education for citizenship."

"I would like to see the rink open one day a week to school children—the day divided into periods for various age groups so small children would not be intimidated by older children."

"Anything this town can do to provide recreation will pay big dividends in the kind of citizens it produces."

George Haskett: "It would be exceedingly difficult to imagine the town of Newmarket without a hockey arena during the coming winter. Many towns throughout the province of Ontario are looking ahead into the future and are establishing sports centres for the youth and this will be an opportunity for the people of Newmarket to help our town in this cause by voting to purchase the Newmarket arena."

"During these difficult war and coming post-war years we should expand rather than decrease the opportunities for the youngsters to get out and develop in sports. A municipally owned arena might not possibly pay big dividends in dollars and cents but should prove invaluable as a recreation centre for the townspeople, young and old, during the winter months."

Mrs. A. H. Woods: "Whether the price in dollars and cents asked for the arena is too high or too low, I do not know."

"I do know we as a people are beginning to realize the value of recreation for old and young alike. Thinking of the young and teen-agers' recreation is important because character is moulded in the play hours. Children are a trust given us for a short time. They are more important to us than anything else we possess. Let us have the arena and reap the dividend in healthy, happy living."

Rudy Renzius: "What a beautiful recreation centre the town hall had been made into. Gymnasium, locker rooms, showers, library, and reading rooms both for young ones and for the old. Small rooms for building model airplanes, weaving, collections and other hobbies."

"A director of recreation, a real one. He learned his profession when he was a physical instructor in the army. He had assistants, both volunteers and paid ones, all immensely interested in what they were doing. Busy children, returned men making scale models, old granddads reading and having a pipe. What a town! Look at Widdfield Park, a grand track, field and ball park with a field house. "Across the street, kids swimming, diving and canoeing in the dredged and cleansed Fairy Lake. The old people on the sand and grass beach, reading and resting. What a town!"

"Nowadays, so many people, working in Toronto, have moved to Newmarket, commuting daily. It must be a grand place to skate and play hockey in the winter-time. Look at those rest and dressing rooms."

"Too bad I woke up. I enjoyed spending the $17,000 in my dream of a bigger and better Newmarket where there was recreation, not only for the few hockey fans but also for that bigger group of all ages who enjoy doing many things, particularly the boys and girls who have been in the armed forces and have been used to the best in recreational facilities. Of course, I could go to sleep again."

H. E. Gilroy: "I am definitely in favor of the purchasing of the local arena by the town of Newmarket."

"Recreation is most important in the development of the lives of our boys and girls and should be the first concern of every parent or guardian."

"The cross-section views of our members of council should be a tremendous advantage in promoting the organization of sports activities, whereas, it is only reasonable to expect a return of dollars and cents from private investment."

"This is an opportunity that may not again present itself in many years and should be treated with much concern."

William Gibb: "In October we are having a vote on the question whether the town should purchase the arena or not. In my opinion, there should be absolutely no question about it, if we haven't an arena, where can our children and youths go for pleasure. The arena is one place where the parents can feel sure that the children are safe, and not in any danger of going through the ice, as sometimes happens on the pond."

"Also what about the boys' and men's hockey teams, are they all to be deprived of good clean sport, for without the arena, the hockey teams would not exist?"

"We all know that skating and hockey is our national sport and if the parents and grandparents would just remember that they enjoyed skating themselves in their younger days, there should be no hesitation about voting in favor of the arena."

"What Canadian city or town can get along without an arena, and what Canadian city or town is there without one? It helps the youths in our community, and also the merchants, as there are always a certain amount of visitors coming in to the arena. Also there is nothing better than skating from the health standpoint."

"Why not let our young people enjoy their sport here at home, for if not here, they will certainly go where they can find it. "I am 100 percent in favor of the purchase of the arena by the town."

CLASSIFIEDS CAN BE OF SERVICE TO YOU

SERVING AURORA AND DISTRICT

SERVICEMAN TELLS OF FIGHTING IN FRANCE

The following is a letter to Mrs. W. H. Wilmet, Sharon, from Ede. E. G. Jeffery who is serving in France. "Just a line to let you know that all is well. I sincerely hope and trust that you and your family and all the ladies of the Red Cross are in the very best of health. This is one of the very few opportunities that presents itself to write, so you may rest assured that I shall avail myself of every minute and endeavor to try and catch up with all unanswered correspondence."

"Today is rather a peculiar sort of day. Gunfire is at a minimum and it is dark and dreary—just one of those days that life is at its darkest. But in a way it is welcome for it has at least settled the dust temporarily. The dust at times was terrible and we could easily have been mistaken for colored troops, our faces and hands used to get so black."

"We have travelled over a lot of country since I last wrote and to date appear to have made a rather successful job of keeping Jerry on the losing end. Of course, it hasn't all been fun. We haven't got off scot free by any means, but when the book is balanced it turns out pretty well in our favor."

"The class of men we are fighting are rather a motley gang, consisting of forced inhabitants of occupied countries down to the much-hated S.S. men. The latter are very stubborn and have to be almost annihilated before they give in. And then we have this Hitler youth who think that it's undying glory to fight for the Fuehrer. So the only thing we can do is to oblige them. The extent of their faith is almost unbelievable."

"The French people we contact these days are a little more friendly than the ones of two months ago. Of course, their homes have not been nearly as badly damaged, although at times we are forced to completely obliterate the occasional village or town in order to destroy the hated Hun. This process of obliteration is, to say the least, terrible. One minute you see a village, the next a charred mass of bomb craters and rubble."

"God grant that the day will soon arrive when we can cease all this terrible slaughter. Not that I pity the Germans, for I don't. But I do pity the poor, unfortunate Frenchmen who are merely victims of circumstances. Germany deserves no pity. Had the people of the Reich so desired they would have overthrown Hitler and his cohorts long ago and saved millions of lives not to mention untold heartaches and distress."

Won't Forget Boys Who Died In Battle—Soldier

"Just a few lines to thank you and the members of the Veterans' Association for sending the cigarettes which I received the other day," L. St. Wm. B. Johnston writes the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund. "I really appreciate the cigarettes and also the Newmarket paper which arrives quite regularly. I read about other fellows receiving cigarettes from your association and the paper. I'm sure that they realize as much as I do the wonderful work you are doing for the boys in the service."

"It is nice to know that we have so many friends back home and that they are thinking of us. It won't be very long till this war is over and I'm sure that it will be quite a happy day, not only for the fellows in the service, but for the folks at home. Some won't be so happy for they have lost their loved ones in battle. That is to be expected. However, I'm sure that everyone knows that they gave their lives to help bring peace and happiness back to the world. To them belongs the honor and we'll never forget those who died in battle."

"I may be home next month for a short leave. I'm sure you know how much the fellows look forward to that. Being Vets from the last war you'll agree that leave is something you hear about, talk about, but very seldom get."

"Just a few lines thanking you for the cigarettes that you people sent me," writes L. St. Alfred Smith. "They will come in handy as the lads are low on smokes in our mess. I see by the town paper that the boys overseas are getting cigarettes from you and I am glad."

"Just a few lines to thank you one and all for the smokes that I received a few days ago," Pte. Donald Edwards writes the Veterans. "They sure are nice to receive as the English smokes aren't up to much. Your last lot of cigarettes came through by the new system and we get them a lot quicker that way."

"I have seen a few of the boys from town over here but I haven't seen any since last May. I get The Era and Express quite often and it is good to see the news about home."

"The weather is quite hot here—too hot in fact at times. The heat is a little different here than what it is there. It is not a sticky or sultry heat. The flies are really terribly annoying and also the mosquitoes, but they don't seem to be quite as bad as the flies though. "There is plenty of fruit here log in a motorcycle accident while training in England just prior to D-day.

Pte. Bull says the robot bombs, which he describes as like "Spitfire planes," caused considerable damage, but the English people did not react the way the Germans expected. "They stood up to too much to be worried about the rockets. Everything is gradually getting back to normal."

He reports Sgt. Ken. Brown, Pte. Jimmy Scott and Pte. Leonard Chapman in action in France with his old unit. One of the last persons he saw before leaving England was LAC Billy Hoskinson, another Aurora boy who sent best regards to all.

SALVAGE DRIVE WILL BE HELD ON OCT. 14

The Era and Express may be purchased in Aurora at Messrs. Morning's, Whitelaw's and Millin's.

NOT RECOGNIZED

Gagster Bob Hope and songstress Frances Langford, en route to Camp Borden where they entertained troops, stopped at Aurora to stretch their legs. They strolled up and down Yonge St. without anyone recognizing them except one young lady who was too flabbergasted to do anything about it before they drove away.

AURORA BOY, GIRL STUDENTS WIN AWARDS

Miss Betty Kerswill, who graduated from Aurora high school in 1941, has been awarded a $500 scholarship provided by the Victorian Order of Nurses and has entered upon a public health course at the University of Toronto. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kerswill, R. R. 3, King.

Betty is the second Aurora graduate to receive a scholarship award this fall.

LAC John "Crysdale" Aurora, won a Reuben Wells Leonard scholarship a few weeks ago with a cash value of $300, together with free tuition, making a total value of $900. John has been assured by university officials that the scholarship will be held open for him until after he has completed his service with the R.C.A.F. He is training as a wireless navigator. He previously won the John Stuart scholarship at the local school.

Reports from overseas this month tell of the heroic action of the 1st Hussars regiment with which a large number of Aurora and district men are serving.

June 11 is mentioned as the day when the Hussars rode their tanks into a flaming German ambush near Norrey-en-Bessin to smash a planned enemy counter attack of major proportions which, if it had succeeded would have endangered the whole Canadian position in the Caen-Bayeux "hinge" upon which the subsequent battle of France so largely depended.

The Hussars had already won honors on the Normandy beach-head and "B" squadron of the unit, with the exception of a few crewmen, was wiped out, tanks, officers and personnel.

The officer commanding and three other officers have recently been awarded decorations, and observers from other units are warm in their tribute to the gallant Hussars. The men fought not only in tanks but hand to hand with the enemy, with all weapons being brought into play. All squadrons were engaged and regimental H.Q. suffered seriously in the action.

Capt. O. G. Stoner of London, second-in-command of C squadron, in a letter home says "it was there that up until now (July 20) most of our casualties were suffered." He says "It is interesting to note that the objective our regiment had set out to take was captured less than a week later by the British, but this time more than a full division went into the push."

The unit whose headquarters is in London, Ont., suffered heavy casualties and among Aurora boys listed were Tpr. Douglas McKenzie, killed, Tpr. William Mugford and Sgt. Wm. Simmons, missing, Cpl. Tommy Raeside, Tpr. Leonard Rothell and Bert Dunham wounded. Others serving included Alf. Cooper, Ray White, Tommy Rank, Gordon Long, William Waite, Dennis Richardson.

An active ladies' auxiliary functions in Aurora, and since the boys went overseas, has looked after cigarettes and comforts steadily.

FARMER FINDS BODY OF ELIZABETH MCKAY

While searching for cattle at the rear of his farm, lot 17, concession five, King township, on Friday, Otto Geisler discovered the body of 77-year-old Elizabeth McKay, missing from her home on the fourth concession since Sept. 5. The body was found on a pile of stones huddled against a fence corner. County Constable Aubrey Fleury, Constable Jack Davis and Corporal Dr. C. J. Devins were called to the scene. Following examination, Dr. Devins said no inquest would be necessary as the woman had died from exposure, presumably a day or two after her disappearance. She was buried at Beaverton on Saturday.

this month * Bruce Hutchison's THE HOLLOW MEN, a novel of the present day. This is the book which critics have been eagerly awaiting since Canada's distinguished political reporter made Canadian literary history with his UNKNOWN with subtle satire built around politics and politicians; plot is set in Ottawa with a political and family background, exciting, powerful and historic character portraits. Longmans

IN "SIMONE" (Macmillan, 3/6) Lord Feuchtwanger tells the unforgettable story of a young girl's heroism when the Germans invaded France. Her story, as Feuchtwanger makes strangely clear, has already been the story of another French girl, Joan of Arc. Her motto, "When I am not nourished by who else, if you wish, is a challenge to all." SIMONE is an inspiring novel. It sets forth magnificently the faith and the strength which no conqueror of France will ever destroy.

WITH AUTUMN CLOSING IN

of how to keep the family clothes and household linen in order is unquestionably difficult. Love is ques-their noble best to wash clothes white and find it impossible to achieve satisfactory results with plain soap and water. An excellent cleaning agent, it bleaches, disinfects and sweetens as well. Love is strong concentrated the strongest disinfectant known to science and must be used

"It seems as though the only time I write is when your parcel of cigarettes comes to me," Sgm. Clifford Barker writes in a letter of appreciation to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund. "I have intended to write several times before but just don't seem to have the time."

"Since writing you last I have received two parcels of smokes and they are certainly very welcome. A Canadian smoke is very much appreciated over here."

"I have just been back at camp a few days from seven days leave. For five days of my leave I was in Rome and really enjoyed myself. Seeing that city brought back memories of Canada because it is altogether different than anything else I have seen in this country. The people are clean and well dressed, which is something unusual to places that I have seen."

"We are having real summer weather and the old saying of "Sunny Italy" is certainly coming true. The sun is out every day and is very hot. We had a thunder storm yesterday and one again today, which cools the air and makes it much more pleasant."

"I have met a few fellows from town but not many considering the number of boys that are in this country from Newmarket."

"Received your cigarettes O.K. and thanks very much for them," L-Bdr. Lorne McCordick writes the Veterans. "Things are looking better now and we're all hoping it will be over before winter."

"It's pretty quiet right now but we manage to keep busy.
Right now it's brewing up another rain so I think I'll find a better hole," preferably with a good roof."

"Just a line to thank you for the gift parcel of 300 cigarettes which I received last night," LAC Bill Dougan writes the Veterans. "Everything is going fine here in Italy and I don't think it will be very long before we can thank you one and all in person for the wonderful job you have done."

"Please accept my sincere thanks for the cigarettes you are so generously sending me," Capt. Gordon Crutcher writes the Veterans. "You may be certain that not one is wasted.
Several times I have shared them with men of my company who are in hospital and who have run short. They wish me to pass on their thanks too."

"The news continues to be encouraging to all of us, so we are hoping for an early cessation of hostilities and subsequent return to Canada."

French Happy, Generous,
Soldier Writes Vets

"I received your most welcome cigarettes the other day and you can be sure they really came in handy as we were down to our last Canadian smokes," writes Gnr.
Claude T. Kirbyson from France to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund.

"We get English cigarettes in our rations but I guess you fellows know the difference between English and Canadian smokes."

"Things are really looking a lot different than they did five years ago today. None of us can see how the Jerries can keep on with this war. Their equipment is laying all along the road and in some places we have to take to the fields to get past. The Jerries are walking down the roads and there is nobody guarding them and they really look happy."

"The last two weeks have been the happiest I've been since I left Canada. It makes a fellow feel pretty good to see the French all standing in the streets singing and smiling. From some of the stories we have heard things have been pretty tough for them."

"Our crew is pretty lucky as we have a fellow that can speak French and he is a great help. Two of us went to get some water from a farm house and they gave us some eggs and some fresh milk. If we are lucky sometimes we catch a stray cow and get some milk, but lately things have been going the wrong way because the people are not moving out. So we stick to our rations."

"The French people won't take money for anything you get from them. They have told us of the Jerries holding pistols on them and taking everything they have."
"This is a short letter, but I hope it shows how things are going with us over here and I'll say again, many thanks for the cigarettes and also for the good work that the Veterans all over Canada are doing for us fellows. I know the boys that are in my outfit really appreci-

Yearling Heifer Brings $550 At York Jersey Sale

The second annual York county Jersey sale held at the Richmond Hill arena last week proved successful with 43 head sold at an average of $231.

The top price of $550 was paid by B. H. Hull and Sons, Brampton, for Don Head M. A. Victory Sybil, a yearling heifer consigned by Don Head Farmers Ltd., Richmond Hill, while another of their heifers, Don Head Observer's Sunray Lass, was knocked down to C. J. Fox, Willowdale, at $500.

The majority of these richly bred females were purchased by York county breeders with C. J. Fox, Willowdale, being the largest buyer to found herd for his farm on Bayview Ave. Auctioneer, E. E. Franklin, Toronto, was assisted as sales manager by Jas. Bremner, secretary of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club, Toronto.

SPORTS...

FROM

WHERE WE SIT

By DEL. GIBNEY

The Oct. 10 vote on whether the local arena will be purchased by the town might well be worth a few comments from where we sit.

We will grant the arena in the past few years has been non-profit making, but our neighbor, Aurora, has an arena owned by the town and operated by Les Beazer on a percentage basis. Mr. Beazer was able to make it worthwhile for himself and also realized profits for the town.

An arena for Newmarket is a source of revenue for the town business men. Saturday evenings many outsiders come to town looking for some source of recreation and while here spend many of their dollars. If this arena should be taken away from the locality the town would be a dull place to spend an evening and our guests would visit neighboring towns.

We feel the town should take over the arena because it is the proper thing to do and is a solid investment, if not in dividends, then as an essential facility for the physical development of our youth.

Skating is a fine sport for both young and old. It not only gives one enjoyment but allows one to have good, fresh air which so many of our older folk need.

A country arena is also a place of friendship and good fellowship which is lacking in many of our bigger cities and towns.

For those who think on terms of dividends, the arena could be made into an all year round enterprise, roller-skating, circus, boxing and wrestling shows, basketball, gymnastic classes and the endless sports activities that could be planned in one building and which would help to pay the loan in a few years.

Newmarket is in the centre of the finest agriculture belt in Ontario and this arena could serve as a place for indoor fairs, for junior farmers and junior ladies to show their produce and handicrafts.

If the vote should be negative it will be a black mark not only for the town but for the surrounding district and especially for the younger generation.

Our fathers and sons, yes, and daughters too are fighting on the battlefields to preserve peace and a place for our children to be strong and healthy, free from all tyranny. Would it not be a disgrace to have the town's loved ones come back and learn that those who stayed at home with all the comforts of life, and whom they cherished, let a place of recreation be taken from our midst.

Let us turn the Newmarket arena over to the town and make it a place of recreation.

"Peony" Flowers Again

For the past two years the younger blood of the local bowling club has taken the top honors from the old timers. Stan. Smith, an up and coming first year bowler, captured the honors last year, while "Peony" McCaffrey took the king's plate in a straight line of wins this year.

In the championship club singles Eugene Inld down perfect bowls to take one of Newmarket's best bowlers, Percy King, 17-15 in a 21 end game.

These two bowlers played in a township and Gene figures it was the muddy track that held Percy back and gave the long-shot a victory.

At the fowl tournament "Peony" was in there again and with his lead, Stan. Smith, came through for three wins to take a couple of prize chickens for their effort.

Percy King says that Eugene needn't take his hat to any bowler and will keep the family name living in the bowling circle.

Like most almon, Sgt. Burrows has his good luck charm. "Of course, everyone carries his good luck charm and stakes his life on its value. My good luck charm is 31 cents in good old Canadian currency. It consists of two pennies, two nickels and one one-cent piece. They go with me always and as yet have not let me down. But after all, how could they? Things from Canada are genuine as I have realized since I crossed that little bit of water between here and Canada."

An postscript to the letter Sgt. Burrows writes: "Incidentally, how does Pearson St. look now? Beautiful, I should imagine." The letter was received by the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers'

SOLDIER NOSTALGIC FOR GOOD OLD DAYS

"Here I am again to thank you very much for the 300 cigarettes which I received yesterday," writes Coder Bruce Gould in a letter of appreciation to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund.

"I suppose things are fairly quiet around town still, but not for long, if things keep going the way they are. The place will soon be shaking with the excited cries of the fellows and girls who once left the old home town to tend to some business. What a swell day it will be when things can be resumed in the manner that the canal town was used to once upon a time and to feature much the same cast, especially the old R.S.A. bugle band.

"I can just imagine the feeling that each of us will have to be able to walk down any street in town and meet up with chums, to be able to go to a good hockey game in the Newmarket or Aurora arenas and see old familiar faces and characters shooting the old rubber (and I do mean rubber) around, to be able to attend the good old ball games on the Stuart Scott school grounds, the popular garden parties and street dances in the good old summer time and to be able to get both bands, R.S.A. and the Citizens' rolling again, to be able to play for you fellows as you march to your annual services, etc."

"My deepest appreciation to you, The Newmarket Veterans' Association, for the 300 cigarettes I received from you this week," reads a letter from Spr. Wallace S. Morton to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund.

"Just a few lines to say that I received your most welcome parcel that you mailed to me last October and was sure glad to get it as you always send the things that I need most and they came in very good condition," writes Pte. G. A. Park to the Veterans' Association.

"As you see by my new address I am back in England and hope to be home soon where I may come and thank you in person. That cannot come too soon for me. Thank you again for the parcels you are sending me."

"Received 300 cigarettes today and words cannot tell you how thankful I was to receive them, as we have been buying English ones at two shillings four pence for 20 cigarettes," reads a letter to the Newmarket Veterans' Soldiers' Comforts fund from Spr. Norman H. Lundy.

"I have been moved so much half my cigarettes do not get to me at all. Have been to a lot of different places since arriving here. I also got a ducking in the English channel on D-day so have landed back in England. We are billeted in a private house now and believe me, it sure is good to have a real bed to sleep in once more."

"I think it will soon be over, with Germany anyway. We have not had any double bombs over London for over 160 hours, that sure is a long time after the way they were coming."

"Another parcel of cigarettes pastor, was also present. The weather is fine after a rather heavy frost. The trees are beginning to wear their autumn dress.
